Misty's average life as a barmaid is about to take an unexpected yet tantalizing turn, but for better or for worse? Robert, in his forties, has enjoyed the BDSM lifestyle for nearly 20 years now. However, he is no longer content with women who are already curious about learning what that lifestyle involves. Robert wants a woman who knows little or nothing about the true joys that such a lifestyle can bring. He sets his sights on Misty after having carefully planned each and every step on how to induce her into first hating him, then perhaps liking him and eventually even loving him.

His goal is to do this in only three days. Three days for abduction... seduction... and the making of a slave. Is it possible?
