Introducing - White Lies - the second episode in a new hot and steamy alpha billionaire romance series by Laura Bailey! James Callahan is no ordinary billionaire. He has little interest indulging in the luxurious lifestyle most men of his status find themselves spending their fortunes on. But when his father passes away, and his brother mysteriously dies in a catastrophic accident after announcing his intentions to run for public office, his mother gives him no choice but to return home and fulfill his family's destiny; to create a lasting legacy in the nation's capital.

But it's going to take a lot more than just limit amounts of money to secure James' senate seat. Alicia Dawson wanted to get as far away from her family as possible. A graduate student pursuing a Political Science PhD at Cambridge, she has no intentions of ever going back to the U.

But when her billionaire grandfather offers to finally tell her what really happened to her mother all those years ago in exchange for her help, she's left torn between trusting his word or never discovering what truly happened on that fateful night. Soon, James and Alice will experience things they never would have expected in their wildest dreams, and their lives will change forever.  This is a hot, steamy, and sexy alpha billionaire romance series that is perfect for fans of Hannah Ford, Cassie Cross, and Ellie Danes **
