Ava Mara could not whisk away the scene of the murder from her mind; she did not understand why the assault had to take place then and there; she did not understand why a member of her family had to die in front of her. Artifact? What the young man, the murderer, had demanded was foreign. No one in her family knew what he meant. What was it? Was that the reason why someone she knew and cared about had to die? Despite the stupefaction and grief, Ava knew for sure she would not let the murderer off unpunished. And ever since forcing her way in to question The Order Of Graves, Ava eventually learned that she had unknowingly been the Keeper of an Artifact; a relic from the Last War. Adamant to track down the murderer and seek retribution, the impetuous Ava and the other individuals summoned by the Lady of the Manor headed South to start the hunt and put an end to the bloody murders.

And as their mission progressed further, Ava realized that everything was not as black and white as it seemed to be.
