Nothing ever happens in idyllic Wellcome Valley, much to Eddie Dane's dismay.

Then, one day, Scarlett White steps onto the school bus. She's a stranger but somehow familiar.

Equal parts smitten and intrigued, Eddie tries to get to know her but finds she has more questions about him. Curious questions about his dead mother.

One day he follows Scarlett to a remote house, where he witnesses a brutal murder, and suddenly he's back on the school bus the day he first met Scarlett! Caught in a repeating time loop, Eddie learns the truth about his mother's death, the nature of his connection to Scarlett, and how his past has shaped a dangerous future...one that he can prevent if he lets go of a person he loves.

Smart, gripping, and romantic, this is a time-travel novel that's really about the importance of human connection and the possibility of choosing the person you become.
